Approximately 10 issues. All were addressed, but about 4 need significant additional explanation.

Thanks, Katie. Can you guesstimate how many issues were considered in the two comments? Are there other issues that require additional explanation but just not as much? Thanks again. Carl

I will guess 4 issues need a good deal more explanation. I have reviewed 2 comments

For purposes of being able to tell the Administrator how far off the mark the City is, could you all guesstimate (I'm not looking for precise numbers) how many of the City's responses to the total number of issues each of you has reviewed were basically unresponsive and have to be re-visited by the City; it will be very helpful to the pitch I'll have to make to the Administrator. Many thanks.
