HISTORY AND CULTURE INCORPORATED INTO COLUMNS

HART has completed its first embossed column as part of a series of special column designs connected with the project's station development program.

The column is one of eight that will support the guideway for the Ho`opili station in East Kapolei.

The Ho`opili embossed columns honor the natural elements that nourished the agricultural lands and the story of the Honouliuli ahupua`a. The pattern depicts the flow of wind, coral representing the foundation and the area's beginnings, sea salt beds, and the symbolic first planting of the `ulu tree that grew plentiful in this area. The design also incorporates rain and the sun as it rises over Pu`uokapolei, which marked the seasons for planting and harvesting crops.

All of the project's 21 stations will have patterns unique to the area's ahupua`a. The patterns are designed to tell the historic and cultural stories of each community where the stations are located.

"These columns are designed to reflect the richness of the history and the culture of the ahupua`a along the rail route," said HART Executive Director and CEO Dan Grabauskas. "They are just one of many things that will make our system unique."

HART TO RECEIVE $49 MILLION IN GET COLLECTIONS

The Honolulu Authority for Rapid Transportation (HART) will receive more than $49 million in General Excise and Use Tax (GET) revenue for the second quarter of 2014.

With the receipt of the $49.5 million for the months of April, May and June, the total GET revenue for the Honolulu rail project now stands at $1.30 billion.

The half-percent GET surcharge dedicated to the Honolulu rail system was levied beginning in January 2007 and is set to expire at the end of 2022. It is estimated the surcharge will fund nearly 70 percent of the project's cost, with the remainder to be covered with federal funding.
