I looked there, but I actually did find the scoping report on Cliff Slaters website, as well as the City's response to their comment letter. What exactly am I looking for to compare with the other documents when I got there I wasn't clear.

Hey Ted –

The Honolulu Transit Library might have some resources worth looking into.

The Presentations tab includes Draft EIS public Hearing Materials. <http://www.honolulutransit.org/library/default.aspx>

The Planning Document and Technology tabs may have some information as well. There is a presentation called why rail and there is a response to Prevedourous's 20 points.

Liz
