

The Honolulu Rail Project team has received comments from the three primary environmentally oriented organizations in Honolulu in response to the Draft EIS: the Sierra Club, the Outdoor Circle and Hawaii's Thousand Friends. The Sierra Club has indicated support for the project in its current configuration from the beginning. Outdoor Circle and Hawaii's Thousand Friends have submitted comments and posed questions about how the project will be mitigated, but have not stated specific opposition to the elevated configuration in letters or other communications with the project team. All three organizations expect the project to be completed in a manner that respects the environment.
