Subject: RE: 2nd draft of briefing paper for TOA-1 meeting with FAA

I spoke to the FAA at Hawthorne for another update. Here is the latest:

- Cost of impacts is now in a range of $106M to $132M.
- FAA local office did not get actively involved because they were reliant on HDOT as owner of the airport.
- HDOT was a cooperating agency from the start in 2007.
- The City has indicated to FAA that they will challenge FAA's findings so FAA has been very careful to be accurate.
- FAA sent an e-mail in January 2009 to everyone outlining the steps to this process once it became apparent that the issues were too complicated and difficult for a letter as discussed in December meetings.
