Hi Faith, got your voice mail. That sounds fine if you want to go with the call Wednesday, maybe Blythe will say we don't need another meeting - we can always hope. Anyway, as long as we don't advertise it as the last meeting I think we're ok, maybe acknowledge at the outset that some comments are outstanding that may require another meeting and see how the group reacts. If they are ok, great, but I don't want to go into this advertising "last meeting" and have ACHP or someone comment negatively at the opening since they haven't had a chance to send their stuff. However, let's set a goal of no more than one more meeting after this one and discuss what needs to happen and set a date to make that possible.
