I think so. They should be mentioned in one of the "whereas's".

So the parties to the agreement listed in the opening isn't an indicator of who is bound by the agreement, I assume? Right now the ACHP, FTA, and SHPD are identified in the opening but there are other invited signatories (Navy, NPS, and City). I assume they all have the same status.

My understanding is that mandatory signatories and invited signatories are full signatories. Consulting parties may or may not sign, and as long as the full signatories sign, the agreement is valid.

So what's the process for conferring with ACHP and SHPD on this decision? Call, letter, email?

Gentlemen, attached is a draft of a letter to the OIBC on our denial of their request to be an invited signatory. Also attached is their request letter. Please provide comments.

Also, maybe you guys can clear something up. The draft PA from Honolulu has three categories: Signatories (also listed in the opening paragraph as the parties to the agreement) which are FTA, ACHP, and SHPD; Invited Signatories, which are the Navy, the NPS, and the City/County of Honolulu; and concurring parties. Are there 3 categories? Or is it just 2, parties to the agreement/signatories and concurring parties?

Thanks,
