That's fine with me, Ray. Carolyn is scheduled to return to D.C. from her detail in San Francisco at the end of this month; if she could hold over in San Francisco until the 3rd, she wouldn't wear herself out going bi-coastal and we would probably save a little money in the process. I don't know if that's possible, however. I will copy Carolyn on this e-mail and we'll see what happens. Thanks. Carl

Hi Carl,

It might make sense for Carolyn to go to Honolulu for the PMOC kick-off so she can see the alignment, meet all the players and get the latest briefing.

Hi Carolyn,

If you are going, I would suggest that you be available late Monday afternoon - many of us are taking a 9am flight from SFO. Tuesday afternoon is critical since this would be where you would see the alignment. Let me know what you are going to do so I can let DTS know, but there is no rush.
