Archaeological resources already documented within the APE include remnants of fishponds, cultivation terraces, irrigation systems, habitated sites, and subsurface cultural layers related to Native Hawaiians that may include religious or cultural artifacts and resources, including iwi kupuna or Hawaiian burials. These effects will occur during construction. After completion of construction, no additional project-related effects on archaeological resources are expected.

These are the two sentences I did not like and requested revised or removed. To the extent possible, these resources would be identified through Archeological Inventory Surveys prior to Final Design of the Project.

I also provided specific language that I wanted included regarding what parties would be finalizing the PA. They may have included it in Chapter 4, but they did not include it in the Executive summary.

Besides those two items, I have no other comments on the executive summary.

Please let me know if you feel that you would like me to participate in a call at 6:30. Otherwise, I am available by cell if you need me. 202-841-4912.

Thanks.

Liz
